1. Preamble

The Master's programme of Food Science and Nutrition provides professional education for those who wish to develop a carrier in Food Industry, New Product Development, Clinical Nutrition, Public Health Nutrition and Research. It focuses on the interface between food science and human nutrition and area of increasing importance to educators, health departments, consumers, government and food industry. It builds on major concepts of nutritional biochemistry, nutrition and food science to discuss the roles of all nutrients, nutritional contents of food and diet in health and disease. The programme includes all the units of study to ensure the students reach competence including public health, clinical nutrition, communication, research and evaluation. Shivaji University Kolhapur, Faculty of Science and Technology is offering M.Sc. degree in Food Science and Nutrition since inception with modifications in scheme and syllabus from time to time as needed to keep abreast with largest knowledge in the field. Since the subject has grown tremendously, there is a need to specialize within the subject and train students specifically for the job market.

The proposed M.Sc. Programme under NEP scheme has a total of 88 credits consisting of MMT, MMPR, and MET.

2. Duration

M.Sc. (FSN) is a two years full time Post graduation degree programme and the curriculum is as per the provisions of NEP 2020 subject to completion of 88 credits in four semesters to earn Master's Degree in Food Science and Nutrition. There is provision of exit option after completion of first year (Semester I & II) on completion of 44 Credits to earn PG Diploma in Food Science and Nutrition subject to completion of On Job Training (OJT) of 4 credits after end of semester II i.e. during summer vacation. PG Diploma (FSN) students can re-enter the programme for completion of second year (Semester III & IV) to earn Master's Degree within a time span of five years from the date of admission to first year.
